What really is a Career Expo anyways? Don't people attend these just to get hired? Well, career expos offer a lot more than just a chance to practice your handshake and pass off your resume. More often than not, they provide students with a chance to meet dozens of employers who are representing a wide variety of companies.

Employers are in search of students interested in internships and full-time jobs, but even just walking up and making small talk is enough to keep you on their radar. It’s not as scary as it sounds - just show up in business attire, mingle with companies you would be interested in working for, and don’t forget to hand them a copy of your resume so they can remember just how awesome you are!

What’s the worst that can happen? Absolutely nothing. You networked and got your name out there, now you’re all the more confident the next time around!
